GEARING ROLES Pairing Event

Sabancı University Gender and Women's Studies Center of Excellence (SU Gender) hosted the pairing event titled "Where do we go from here? Institutionalizing and Sustaining Gender Equality Action Plans" on 22-23 June, 2022. Partnered by Oxford Brookes University and Ljubljana University Faculty of Social Sciences, representatives from Deusto University and Yellow Window and learning from each other, the partners went on Curious Steps walks in Beyoğlu and Kadıköy, where participants from SU Gender told the lesser-known stories of women and LGBTI+ people of Istanbul.

Theatre

On 13th and 14th July, a number of partners from the consortium participated in the workshop “Scripting Inequalities, Rehearsing Change”. Hosted by Anne-Laure Humber at OBU and facilitated by Olivier Malcor from Parteciparte in Rome, the workshop explored how methods from Forum Theatre can be used in our work on gender equality in research and innovation. Participants learned how to use games to work on gender equality issues and power dynamics, as well as how to facilitate small pieces of theatre to allow participants to rehearse the kinds of changes they would like to implement. Following the workshop, the Yellow Window team are developing specific activities to be used in upcoming trainings with the GEARING ROLES project.
